IMPORTANT GUIDANCE FOR CANDIDATES

Introduction

The purpose of this Examination Guide is to help you understand how examiners assess candidates' knowledge and their ability to apply this to a case study scenario. You can then use this understanding to help you in your preparation for the examination.

Before the examination

Study the syllabus carefully

This is available online at www.cii.co.uk. All the questions in the examination are based directly on the syllabus. You will be tested on the syllabus alone, so it is vital that you are familiar with it.

There are books specifically produced to support your studies that provide coverage of all the syllabus areas, however you should be prepared to read around the subject. This is important particularly if you feel that further information is required to fully understand a topic or an alternative viewpoint is sought. The reading list which can be found with the syllabus provides valuable suggestions.

Note the assumed knowledge

For the Advanced Diploma in Financial Planning, candidates are assumed to have studied the relevant units of the Diploma in Financial Planning or the equivalent. This knowledge is set out on the relevant syllabus.

Read widely

If you do not have experience in advising clients whose financial needs are relatively sophisticated, it is quite unrealistic to expect that the study of a single textbook will be sufficient to meet all your requirements. While books specifically produced to support your studies will provide coverage of all the syllabus areas, you should be prepared to read around the subject. This is important, particularly if you feel that further information is required to fully understand a topic, or an alternative viewpoint is sought. It is vital that your knowledge is widened beyond the scope of one book. The reading list which can be found with the syllabus provides valuable suggestions.

Make full use of the Examination Guide

This Examination Guide contains a full examination paper and model answers. The model answers show the types of responses the examiners are looking for and which would achieve maximum marks, however, you should note that there are alternative answers to some question parts which would also gain high marks. For the sake of clarity and brevity not all of these alternative answers are shown.

This guide and previous Examination Guides can be treated as ‘mock’ examination papers. Attempting them under examination conditions as far as possible, and then comparing your answers to the model ones, should be seen as an essential part of your exam preparation. The examiner’s comments on candidates’ actual performance in each question provide further valuable guidance. You can obtain copies of the two most recent examination guides free of charge at www.cii.co.uk.

Know the layout of the tax tables

Familiarise yourself with the information contained within the tax tables printed at the back of each Examination Guide. These tax tables will be provided to candidates as part of the examination. The tax tables enable you to concentrate on answering the questions without having to worry about remembering all the information. Please note that you are not allowed to take your own tax tables into the examination, these are provided in the portal as you sit the exam (see page 6).

Know the structure of the examination

Assessment is by means of a three-hour written paper in two sections. All questions are compulsory:

Section A consists of one case study, worth 80 marks. You will be expected to carry out a variety of tasks, after analysing the information provided.

Section B consists of two shorter case studies worth a total of 80 marks. Again you will be expected to carry out a variety of tasks based upon the information provided.

Each question part will clearly show the maximum marks which can be earned.

Appreciate the standard of the examination

Candidates must demonstrate that they are capable of advising clients whose overall levels of income and capital require a more sophisticated scheme of investment than is normally prepared by a level 4 qualified adviser. These clients require a critical appraisal of the various financial planning options available to them.

Read the Assessment information and Exam policies for candidates

The details of administrative arrangements and the regulations which form the basis of your examination entry are available online at www.cii.co.uk/qualifications/assessment-information/introduction/. This is essential reading for all candidates.

On-screen written exam familiarisation

The familiarisation test allows you to experience using the assessment platform before your exam. Please note that while there might be slight differences in layout it will give you a good idea of how to navigate and use the platform functionality. This test is for the purpose of familiarisation with the assessment platform only. You can also access past exam papers here: <https://www.cii.co.uk/learning/qualifications/assessment-information/before-the-exam/exam-papers-and-test-specifications/>

You can access the familiarisation test at any time.

<https://www.cii.co.uk/learning/qualifications/assessment-information/on-screen-written-exams-by-remote-invigilation/exam-familiarisation/>

This example test is designed for all candidates and while there might be slight differences in layout it will give you a good idea of how to navigate and use the platform functionality.

We strongly advise that you try the familiarisation test once you have received your login details and well in advance of the actual exam day.

Please note you are strongly advised not to use a laptop provided by your employer.

Laptops and IT equipment provided by your employer typically include security protocols that conflict with any remote invigilation software. You should also avoid using a corporate Wi-Fi or any other internet connection that may include firewalls that you cannot personally control.

- From the AF1 familiarisation test, ensure you can scroll right and see the whole screen. Ensure your screen resolution shows all the features including the button to return back to your answers to edit them. To return to edit any answer you have already typed, you must press 'Answer' for the question you are already in otherwise it will not let you select a previous question you have answered to edit.

Andrew, aged 63, a higher rate taxpayer has two adult children, Lance and Hayley. Lance is a basic rate taxpayer and Hayley is a non-taxpayer. Hayley needs regular care as a result of the injuries she suffered in a motor accident when she was a child. Lance has two young children both under the age of 10. Andrew's mother, Peggy, a widow, died on 1 March 2019 leaving her entire estate to Andrew. Peggy inherited her Aunt's estate of £400,000 in February 2016 following the payment of £30,000 Inheritance Tax (IHT) that was due following the administration of her estate. Peggy's estate was comprised of the following on her death:

House	£700,000
Deposit accounts	£323,000
Cash ISAs	£55,000
FTSE listed shares	£150,000
Collective investment portfolio	£101,000
Personal Pension nominated to a discretionary trust	£326,000

Peggy's husband Frank, died in 2016, leaving his share of their house and his residual estate to Peggy. Frank made only one gift in the seven years before he died. He settled £450,000 into a discretionary trust just under four years earlier. Inheritance Tax (IHT) of £23,800 was paid at outset by the trustees. Following Peggy's death, Andrew is the only remaining trustee. Andrew is in discussions with his solicitors to draft a Will and they have suggested he arrange a Lasting Power of Attorney (LPA) for Property & Financial Affairs. Andrew intends to make some provision for his children and grandchildren. His income is around £10,000 a year higher than his outgoings. He has a variety of savings accounts and an onshore life assurance bond invested in a managed fund which has performed well over the years.

To gain maximum marks for calculations you must show all your workings and express your answers to two decimal places.

1. (a) Calculate, showing all your workings, the IHT due as a result of Peggy's death on the 1 March 2019. (13)

- Tax tables are provided at the right-hand side of the interface after the question paper for candidates to use which is different to the CIIs multiple choice exams. Please do not bring your own copies into the exam. Scroll up and down using the navigation bar.

In the examination

The following will help:

Spending your time in accordance with the allocation of marks:

- The marks allocated to each question part are shown on the paper.
- If a question has just two marks allocated, there are likely to be only one or two points for which the examiner is looking for, so a long answer is wasting valuable time.
- Conversely, if a question has 12 marks allocated, a couple of lines will not be an adequate answer. Always remember that if the paper is not completed, your chances of passing will be reduced considerably.
- Do not spend excessive time on any one question; if the time allocation for that question has been used up, leave some space, go on to the next question and return to the incomplete question after you have completed the rest of the paper, if you have time.

Take great care to answer the question that has been set.

- Many candidates leave the examination room confident that they have written a 'good' paper, only to be surprised when they receive a disappointing result. Often, the explanation for this lies in a failure to think carefully about what the examiner requires before putting pen to paper.
- Highlighting key words and phrases is a technique many candidates find useful.
- The model answers provided in this Examination Guide would gain full marks. Alternative answers that cover the same points and therefore answer the question that has been asked would also gain full marks.

Tackling questions

Tackle the three questions in whatever order feels most comfortable. Generally, it is better to leave any questions which you find challenging until you have attempted the questions you are confident about. Candidates should avoid mixing question parts, (for example, 1(a)(i) and (ii) followed by 2(b)(ii) followed by 1(e)(i)) as this often leads to candidates unintentionally failing to fully complete the examination paper. This can make the difference between achieving a pass or a narrow fail.

It is vital to label all parts of your answer correctly as many questions have multiple parts to them (for example, question 1(a) may have parts (i), (ii) and (iii)). Failure to fully distinguish between the separate question parts may mean that full credit cannot be awarded. It is also important to note that a full answer must be given to each question part and candidates should not include notes such as 'refer to answer given in 1(b)(i)'.

Answer format

Unless the question requires you to produce an answer in a particular format, such as a letter or a report, you should use 'bullet points' or short paragraphs. The model answers indicate what is acceptable for the different types of question.

Marks are not lost due to poor spelling or grammar.

You are able to flag questions and then go back to them.

Calculators

The calculator is in a pop-up box on the right-hand side of the interface. It is important to show all steps in a calculation in your answer, even if you have used a calculator. You are permitted to use your own calculator.

Tips for laying out calculations in on-screen written exams

Where you are asked to perform a calculation, it is important to show all the steps in your answer. Most of the marks will be allocated for demonstrating the correct method of calculation.

While there are no marks for presentation, laying the calculation out well will make it easier for the examiner to identify all of the marks you have achieved. It does not matter how long the calculation is, if it is well set out. There is no preferred format but following the below guidelines is often helpful:

- Set out each stage of your calculation on a separate line.
- Label the values used i.e. in an IHT calculation:
 - Main residence £500k;
 - Onshore Bond £100k.
- Identify all allowances, exemptions, tax bands, tax rates used in £ terms.
- Use subtotals where appropriate. For example:
 - Total assets - £1,500,000
 - Nil rate band (NRB) – (£325,000)
 - Residence nil rate band (RNRB) – (£175,000)
 - Assets after allowances - £1,000,000
- Show all your workings. This could include:
 - grossing up of pension contributions,
 - how you work out the allowances if they are not standard,
- Make notes where appropriate. For example:
 - Bond loss is excluded
 - ISA income ignored
- Double check all of your figures.

Please note that it is currently not possible to insert tables for AF1 exams. You are required to type your answers without the requirement for alignment. As guidance, please refer to the model answers provided in any Exam Guides as templates.

There are no special formulas you are required to be aware of included in the system to submit your answers.

EXAMINERS' COMMENTS

Candidates' overall performance

Overall, candidates performed well with many demonstrating sound Level 6 application of knowledge using the information given in the case studies to form detailed and well thought through answers.

Some candidates would have benefited from including more detail and all candidates are reminded that with calculation questions to gain maximum marks all workings must be shown, to 2 decimal places.

Some candidates however did not only answer the question as set but also gave supplementary information that hadn't been asked for. Future candidates are reminded that marks are only available for the correct answer to the question that has been asked.

It was pleasing to see areas that traditionally have not been answered well, such as residence and domicile, were this time tackled well by many candidates.

Question 1

Part (a)

The exam started with a Capital Gains Tax (CGT) calculation and candidates scored high marks. What most candidates failed to explain however was that Agnete's salary of £12,000 fell within her personal allowance leaving an unused amount of £570 to use against her dividends. Her dividends of £28,000 were therefore covered by £570 @ 0%, £500 @ 0% (dividend allowance within the basic rate band) with £26,930 also using up some of the basic rate band. Although many candidates did realise that £10,270 was left of the basic rate band, further marks were available for explaining in more detail how this figure was arrived at. The well-prepared candidates did appreciate that the £10,000 loss and the CGT exempt amount should be set against the property. The investments should have been taxed first at 10% and 20% with the property falling into the 24% higher rate. This led to a lesser CGT liability rather than taxing the property first.

Part (ii) was answered well with most candidates appreciating that CGT on the property must be paid within 60 days and the liability on the other investments paid by 31 January 2026.

Part (b)

In part (i), candidates were asked for an explanation of the CGT implications of Agnete gifting the shares in her limited company to her son. Some candidates confused holdover relief with rollover relief or Business Asset Disposal Relief (BADR). Many candidates also included within their answer the Inheritance Tax (IHT) implications of the gift to her son; this was not asked for in the question and would only have served to lose valuable time. Only the very well-prepared candidates were able to identify that relief is only available if Luka is a UK resident in the tax year and that both Luka and Agnete would have had to jointly claim the relief.

In part (ii) most candidates did appreciate that the sale would enable her to claim BADR and scored well as a result.

Part (c)

This was a straightforward National Insurance contributions (NICs) calculation where the only test of knowledge was in not including the P11D Private Medical Insurance (PMI) cost which although is subject to Income Tax is not subject to NICs. Some candidates did not use the tax table provided in the exam to correctly state that £242 is the primary contribution threshold which lost easily accessible marks. Also, some candidates calculated the employer's liability which was not asked for in the question and so scored no additional marks.

Part (d)

This question asked for the factors that HM Revenue & Customs (HMRC) will consider when deciding whether Matthias will be classed as self-employed or employed when setting up a consultancy business. It was very clear those candidates who had studied in detail around this and those that hadn't. Many candidates gave both the answer of 'a contract of service and a contract for services' and did not make clear that it is a 'contract for services' that indicates self-employment. At this level it is imperative that candidates are clearly demonstrating understanding of the syllabus.

Part (e)

Some candidates were very well prepared for this question and scored maximum marks. Others were not so prepared and scored very low marks as a result. Residence and domicile is a key part of the syllabus and future candidates should ensure that the basic residency rules are understood in full.

Part (f)

This question tested the Income Tax payable on a full surrender of an investment bond. Answers varied greatly; some candidates had clearly spent time understanding the process and how the personal savings allowance (PSA) can be applied. The main error was not appreciating that although it was an offshore investment bond it was still necessary to consider a basic rate tax deduction in step 2 and step 4 although within step 5 there is no reduction to the liability.

Question 2

Part (a)

This question tested knowledge around the marriage allowance and most candidates did well in both parts of the question. The well-prepared candidates recognised that Kara had to claim as she was the one making the transfer of her unused personal allowance.

Part (b)

Candidates then had to calculate Konrad's Income Tax liability assuming a successful claim of the Marriage Allowance and most candidates scored high marks. The main error made was not recognising that Venture Capital Trust (VCT) dividends are not taxable.

Part (c)

Next was a test of knowledge around lasting powers of attorney and the disadvantages of Kara losing mental capacity without one in place. Most candidates scored well with only those demonstrating clear Level 6 knowledge that picked up the marks around the extra supervision requirements of a deputy and the associated fees that go with that.

Part (d)

Next was a test of knowledge of a Discounted Gift Trust (DGT) and it was good to see many candidates relating their answer back to the information in the case study to refer to the fact that Konrad and Kara wanting to mitigate their IHT liability but at the same time retain an income for themselves.

Part (e)

Similarly in this question it was the candidates that related their answer to the information given that scored well on identifying the factors that they should consider prior to setting up the DGT.

Question 3

Part (a)

This question started with an IHT calculation where candidates were required to calculate the transferable nil rate band as well as to understand how a £15,000 donation to charity would be treated. Many candidates correctly worked through the transferable Nil rate band (NRB) as well as the fact that the donation was not large enough to change the IHT rate from 40% to 36%. A surprising number of candidates however did not deduct the £15,000 as an IHT exempt charitable gift.

Part (b)

This question asked for the benefits of the discretionary trust that was created in Aroha's Will rather than each grandchild benefiting outright at age 21. Many candidates correctly described the characteristics of a discretionary trust and how the trust assets can be protected from Saul's gambling problem. Only a few candidates identified that the expression in her Will was not legally binding.

Part (c)

It was good to see that most candidates recognised the new £500 rule for discretionary trust income. The case study clearly stated that only fixed interest securities were within the trust which meant only the 45% income tax rate would apply. Some candidates, as well as describing the Income Tax position, also described the CGT position for the trust which was not required and would have lost valuable time.

Part (ii) asked how trustee expenses are accounted for. Some candidates explained the type of expenses, which was not asked for and despite any inaccuracies would not have gained any extra marks.

Part (d)

The final question in the exam asked for a description of the investment powers and duties of trustees under the Trustee Act 2000. Many candidates answered this correctly but many more gave the general duties of a trustee rather than making them specific to investment.

Question 1

Read carefully all information provided in the case study before attempting the questions. Your answers should take into account the clients' circumstances as set out in the case study. Please carry out ALL of the tasks (a), (b), (c), (d), (e) and (f) which follow.

Agnete and Matthias are both aged 59 and have been married for 25 years. They have one son, Luka, aged 24.

Agnete has run her business as a limited company since 2012. She is the sole shareholder and director. The business has recently been valued at £250,000. The shares cost her £10,000 in 2012. Agnete wishes to retire at age 60 and is keen for Luka to take over her business.

In the 2024/2025 tax year, Agnete will pay herself a salary of £12,000 and dividends of £28,000.

Matthias is employed by a national company, on a salary of £53,000. As part of his employment package, he has Private Medical Insurance. The premium of £1,500 per year is paid by his employer.

Matthias plans to retire from his job in the next two years. His current employer is keen to continue to employ him on a part-time consultancy basis. Matthias is considering setting himself up as a sole trader for this purpose.

Luka has been living overseas for the last four years. He is returning to the UK on 1 October 2024, to spend several months working in Agnete's business before he decides whether to take it over.

Konrad and Kara are a married couple in their 60s. They have two adult children.

Konrad is retired and in the 2024/2025 tax year, he received an annual gross income of £26,000, made up of the State Pension and a pension from his former employer's defined benefit scheme.

He also has income in the 2024/2025 tax year from the following:

Investment	Income £
Cash ISA	3,000
Equity open ended investment company (OEIC)	1,750
Directly held FTSE 100 shares	4,000
Venture Capital Trust (VCT)	2,500

Kara works part-time and earns an annual salary of £9,000. She has no other income. Konrad is concerned that Kara's health is deteriorating and neither of them have arranged powers of attorney.

Konrad and Kara are likely to have a significant Inheritance Tax (IHT) liability on second death. They are considering their options to mitigate this but need to retain an income.

Question 3

Read carefully all information provided in the case study before attempting the questions. Your answers should take into account the clients' circumstances as set out in the case study. Please carry out ALL of the tasks (a), (b), (c) and (d) which follow.

Jerry died on 1 June 2024. His wife, Aroha, died five years ago and the couple left two children, Timoti and Kiri, and five grandchildren aged between 4 and 20.

Jerry made regular gifts to charity during his lifetime and he donated £15,000 in his Will to a local charity. The rest of his estate was left to Timoti and Kiri.

His estate comprised of the following assets:

Asset	Value at date of death £
House	620,000
Open ended investment company (OEIC)	85,000
Onshore investment bond	55,000
Stocks and Shares ISA	40,000
Current Account	25,000

In her Will, Aroha left £260,000 to a discretionary trust, with the remaining assets of her estate passing to Jerry.

Timoti and Kiri are the trustees of the trust. The assets in the trust comprise of cash and fixed interest investments and the trust has not been reviewed since its inception.

Aroha expressed a wish in her Will for each of her grandchildren to receive their share of the trust upon reaching age 21.

Saul, the eldest grandchild, will be 21 later this year and the trustees are considering whether to distribute his share of the trust. They are concerned he is not responsible enough to receive monies yet due to a gambling habit.

NOTE ON MODEL ANSWERS

Net gain	£17,000
Total Gains = £74,945
Salary £12,000 - within £12,570 personal allowance leaving £570 remaining

Dividends - £28,000

Unused personal allowance = £570 @ 0%

£500 Dividend allowance @ 0%

£26,930 of basic rate band used

£37,700 - £500 - £26,930 = £10,270 of basic rate band left to offset against gains

£10,270 @ 10% = £1,027

£47,675 @ 20% = £9,535

Property £17,000 @ 24% = £4,080

Total = £14,642

(ii) Property

- Payment on account of CGT must be made within 60 days from completion using an online property report.

Other investments

- CGT due by 31 January 2026 using HMRC's real time CGT service or self-assessment.

- (b)
- (i)
- Holdover relief can be claimed as gift of business assets/private company shares.
 - No CGT is paid at the time.
 - Market value is £250,000 less £10,000 cost = Chargeable gain of £240,000.
 - Acquisition cost to Luka is reduced by £240,000.
 - Luka will receive the shares with a base cost of £10,000 increasing the amount of any gain made by Luka on a future disposal.
 - Luka and Agnete have to jointly claim holdover relief.
 - Relief is only available if Luka is a UK resident in the tax year.
- (ii)
- She will be liable for CGT.
 - She can claim business asset disposal relief.
 - This covers the first £1m of lifetime qualifying gains that she makes.
 - She will pay 10% on the gain in excess of her available annual exempt amount.
 - Gains are set against any unused basic rate band before non-qualifying gains.

- (c)
- The first £242 is charged at 0%.
 - The difference between £967 and £242 (£725) is charged at 8% = £58.
 - £1,019.23 - £967 = £52.23 charged at 2% = £1.04.
 - Total = £58 + £1.04 = £59.04.

Candidates would have gained full marks for any eight of the following:

- (d)
- A contract for services indicates self-employment.
 - He is not controlled by his ex-employer/not supervised.
 - He won't get holiday pay/overtime.
 - He will be paid a fee (not a regular salary).
 - He will have freedom to accept work or refuse work.
 - He will be able to subcontract the work to someone else.
 - He will be risking his own money.
 - He will have to provide his own equipment.
 - He will have to rectify mistakes.
- (e)
- Luka will be treated as automatically not UK resident if:
 - he is in the UK for less than 16 days in the tax year;
 - he was not resident for any of the previous three tax years and is in the UK for fewer than 46 days in the current tax year;
 - he works full-time overseas provided he is in the UK for less than 91 days in the tax year and he spends less than 31 days in the tax year working in the UK.
 - Luka will be treated as automatically UK resident if:
 - he is in the UK for 183 days or more in the tax year;
 - he has a home in the UK - for at least 91 consecutive days of which at least 30 days are within the tax year;
 - he also has an overseas home during those 91 days, he must be present in that home for fewer than 30 days in the tax year;
 - he carries out full-time work in the UK.

- (f) The gain on the investment bond is £45,000 and Matthias is a higher-rate taxpayer.

Step 1

£500 PSA x 0%

£44,500 x 40% = £17,800

Step 2

BR tax treated as paid is £45,000 x 20% = £9,000

Additional tax on the gain is £17,800 - £9,000 = £8,800

Step 3

The annual equivalent = £45,000/5 = £9,000

Step 4 – tax on the annual equivalent gain =

£500 x 0%

£8,500 x 40% = £3,400

BR tax treated as paid is £9,000 x 20% = £1,800

The relieved liability on the gain = £3,400 - £1,800 = £1,600 x 5 = £8,000

Step 5

Top slicing relief =

£8,800 - £8,000 = £800

Overall liability after top slicing relief =

£17,800 - £800 = £17,000

Model answer for Question 2

- (a) (i)
- Kara’s income is below the personal allowance.
 - Konrad is a basic-rate taxpayer.
 - They are married.
 - Kara can transfer 10%/£1,260 of her personal allowance to Konrad.
- (ii)
- Kara must make the claim to HMRC.
 - The whole 10%/£1,260 must be transferred.
 - An election made in the current tax year remains in force for future tax years.
 - It can be backdated 4 tax years if they were eligible.

(b)	Non-savings	Dividend
Pension	£26,000
Dividends from OEIC		£1,750
Dividends from shares		£4,000
Personal allowance	(£12,570)
	£13,430
	£13,430 @ 20% = £2,686
		£500 @ 0%
		£5,250 @ 8.75% = £459.38
Income Tax = £3,145.38
Less marriage allowance:
£1,260 x 20% = £252
Total = £2,893.38

- (c)
- An application for deputyship would have to be made to the Court of Protection (COP).
 - This would be a costly and time-consuming process.
 - Kara would have no say in who would look after her affairs/make decisions on her behalf.
 - Her assets would be inaccessible until the deputyship is in place.
 - Deputies are subject to more stringent supervision than attorneys and there is an annual fee to reflect this.
- (d)
- The discount is immediately outside of their estate.
 - The couple retain a regular income stream/can take 5% of the initial investment without the GWR/POAT provisions applying.
 - Investment growth is immediately outside the couple's estate.
 - The investment amount could exceed their Nil Rate Bands (NRB) without incurring an immediate charge to IHT/the potential discount can bring the gift below the NRB.
 - The gift drops out of the estate after seven years.

Candidates would have gained full marks for any eight of the following:

- (e)
- Their age and health/are they likely to survive seven years?
 - It will be medically underwritten.
 - Affordability/do they need access to the capital being gifted?
 - Their attitude to risk/capacity for loss.
 - The fixed amount of income/income would be eroded by inflation over time.
 - Do they need the income for life?
 - Have they made any other gifts in the previous seven years?
 - Potential IHT liability on the estate on second death.
 - Should the bond be in single or joint names, given Kara's state of health.
 - Type of trust being used/onshore vs offshore.
