This publication is the work of a compact team of hand-picked market experts representing all sides of the industry and is essential reading for those interested in or who wish to increase their knowledge of Delay in Start-up Insurance - DSU (re)insurance. Since the publication of 'Insurance of Revenue for Projects Under Construction' (RS254) in 2003, DSU has evolved in the intervening years until now, with a considerable number of projects of varying scales and types being insured around the world.

Learning Objectives

- Understanding DSU coverage and how it operates
- Interface with contractors all risks, project cargo and annual business interruption insurances
- Analysis of delay(s)
