The Chartered Insurance Institute is delighted to invite you to a webinar on

Macrotrends in Insurance on Thursday, 25 November 2021 10:00 AM West Africa | 11:00 AM Central Africa | 12:00 PM East Africa

For years, the insurance profession has done a commendable job to protect individuals, families, businesses, and society at large against the most serious threats. In today's world, the rapid changes in the economic, technological, competitive, demographic, and societal environment – plus risks like climate change and the recent COVID-19 pandemic – mean that the purpose of insurance, in all its forms, is more relevant and important than ever.

In this 1.5 hour live webinar, Ms. Maya Nundloll André, Group Technical Director – Reinsurance Solutions, Mauritius will explore the following trends in the insurance sector and discuss what the future holds for this segment:

1. The effect of COVID on Insurance
2. Emerging Risks in Insurance
3. Climate Change - COP26
4. Insurance in a gender equal world
5. Current economic, social, and regulatory trends in insurance.

Speaker biography:

Maya Nundloll André
