Engineering News-Record (ENR) 2024: Egis takes another step forward by ranking 16th in the world!

ENR is the leading construction, architecture and engineering magazine. The rankings, which are published annually, are based on engineering companies' revenues and divided by market segment.

Top 150 Global Design Firms

In a scope corresponding to Egis' activities, i.e. excluding Chinese domestic companies and excluding engineering groups specialising in hydrocarbons, the Egis Group ranked 16th in 2024. This represents an increase of 4 places compared to 2023, reflecting the dynamic growth of the Group in recent years, both organically and through its acquisition policy<sup>1</sup>.

Once again this year, Egis also remains France's leading engineering Group.

Ranking by market segments

For the first time ever, the Egis Group has entered the Top 10 in the Building global market, ranking 8th: this is the result of the ambitious development strategy implemented by the Group since 2021, which has led in particular to the creation of an Architecture service line.

In the Transportation market, Egis is ranked 7th, up 2 places on the 2023 ranking. This result reflects particularly the Group's growth in North America through acquisitions in June 2023.

In the Middle East, Egis remains a frontrunner in the region's top 10, ranking 6th (5th in 2023).
