Alberta Transportation and Economic Corridors (TEC) has recognized Egis project teams with three awards, presented as part of the Consulting Engineers of Alberta (CEA) Transportation Connects Alberta Conference, held on March 3 in Edmonton:

- Minister's Partnering Award for Highway 16 Yellowhead Corridor to TEC (owner), Lahrmann Construction Inc. (Prime Contractor), and Egis (Prime Consultant).
- Minister's Partnering Award for Bow Valley Gap Wildlife Overpass to TEC (owner), PME Inc. (Prime Contractor), DIALOG (Prime Consultant), and Egis (Consultant).
- Minister's Award for Transportation Innovation for Bow Valley Gap Wildlife Overpass to TEC (owner), PME Inc. (Prime Contractor), DIALOG (Prime Consultant), and Egis (Consultant).

Greg Northcott, CEO, Egis in Canada, commented, "We are incredibly proud to be a part of these project teams and for TEC to recognize our partnerships. TEC is an important client for Egis, and we are proud to have been delivering successful projects for them for over 25 years, supporting them to achieve their mandate. We have a long history in Alberta, and we take pride in supporting infrastructure projects across the province. We're continuing to grow our local capacity to deliver and have recently expanded to four offices in Alberta to best support our clients."

Highway 16 Rehabilitation

The Highway 16 Yellowhead Corridor is a major inter-provincial route of the Trans-Canada Highway system connecting Jasper to Lloydminster and is designated as a core route in Canada's National Highway System. The Highway 16 project involved rehabilitating a 33 kilometre section of the highway, along with additional safety improvements, east of Edmonton to Elk Island National Park.

Dwayne Berlando, General Manager, of Lahrmann Construction Inc. noted that he was "Proud to accept this partnering award and the recognition that comes with it. This achievement would not have been possible without the professionalism, cooperation and trust exemplified by the entire team in successfully completing this important upgrade to the Highway 16 corridor."

Bow Valley Gap Wildlife Overpass

The Bow Valley Gap Wildlife Overpass was constructed over the Trans-Canada Highway east of Banff National Park in the Bow River Valley, to support wildlife crossings over an area of high that experienced very high volumes of animal collisions. The overpass is the first of its kind in the Alberta Provincial Park system and provides for a three-lane travel configuration in each direction, allowing for future highway expansion.

Neil Robson, project manager and design lead, DIALOG, said that “By creating safe crossings for animals, these structures dramatically cut down wildlife-vehicle collisions, safeguarding both human and animal lives.”

Transportation and Economic Corridors Partnering Awards

The Transportation and Economic Corridors Partnering Awards are an annual recognition program of completed contracts that best promotes, adheres to, and optimizes the principles of partnering, while striving for innovative solutions to complex problems.
