Egis signs a long term consultancy contract with Cargo Strat. Steven VERHASSELT, the lead consultant specialising in airfreight, will be joining the Egis team to support the strategic development

Starting on August 1st, the network of airports operated by Egis will benefit from the expertise of Steven VERHASSELT to enhance its cargo commercial strategy.

A well-known and recognised expert

For 15 years, Steven VERHASSELT has been dedicated to the commercial development of Liège Airport, helping to make it the air freight leader it is today, with annual traffic of 1 million tonnes.

Steven VERHASSELT has extensive international experience in the airport sector (Belgium, Hong Kong South East Asia, the Middle East, Africa and the Americas), both in strategic consulting and commercial development. As such, he is regularly called upon as a speaker or moderator at professional events.

Based in Belgium, Steven VERHASSELT will provide support to the airports of Ostend, Abidjan, Brazzaville, Pointe Noire and Cyprus, and then Cayenne when Egis' operating contract comes into effect (1 October).
