

Investment Objective: Achieving long term capital growth in real terms and steadily increasing income. Our aim is to achieve a higher rate of total return than the FTSE Actuaries All-Share Index Total Return through investing in a diversified portfolio of stocks.

Fund Managers' Comments

In May the Trust's net asset value rose 7.4%, outperforming its FTSE All-Share benchmark which rose 4.1%.

The UK economy appears to be gently improving, with first quarter GDP growth of 0.7% and UK retail sales surpassing expectations, aided by consumers having built up savings in recent years. A modestly improving domestic backdrop combined with an uncertain backdrop overseas meant that May followed a similar pattern to April, where domestically focussed smaller businesses outperformed larger UK companies. This helped relative performance as this Trust holds more than its FTSE All-Share benchmark in medium and smaller companies.

There was also positive stock-specific news. For example it emerged there were two competing private equity bidders for industrial chain maker Renold. This continues a trend of takeover activity we have seen in recent years as many UK equities trade at a discount to overseas peers. Also among the best performers was autos catalyst supplier Johnson Matthey, which agreed the sale of its Catalyst Technologies business to US listed Honeywell for approximately 80% of Johnson Matthey's market cap. The majority of the proceeds from the transaction will come back to shareholders, likely via a special dividend and share buyback. The detractors from relative performance during the month were predominantly underweight positions in large companies that performed well, such as HSBC and Shell.

During the month we were net investors, adding to a number of existing holdings including commercial property owners Hammerson, Workspace and Great Portland Estates. We continued to reduce a number of holdings that had performed well on valuation grounds, including Babcock and Rolls-Royce.

Company specific risks

- This trust is suitable to be used as one component in several in a diversified investment portfolio. Circa 19 per cent. of the net asset value (NAV) of the trust's portfolio is an investment in an independent professional service company. Investors should consider carefully the proportion of their portfolio invested into this trust.
- Active management techniques that have worked well in normal market conditions could prove ineffective or detrimental at other times.
- The trust could lose money if a counterparty with which it trades becomes unwilling or unable to meet its obligations to the trust.
- Shares can lose value rapidly, and typically involve higher risks than bonds or money market instruments. The value of your investment may fall as a result.
- The return on your investment is directly related to the prevailing market price of the trust's shares, which will trade at a varying discount (or premium) relative to the value of the underlying assets of the trust. As a result losses (or gains) may be higher or lower than those of the trust's assets.
- The trust holds an investment in the IPS business which are wholly owned subsidiaries and private shares.
- If a trust's portfolio is concentrated towards a particular country or geographical region, the investment carries greater risk than a portfolio diversified across more countries.
- The trust may use gearing as part of its investment strategy. If the trust utilises its ability to gear, the profits and losses incurred by the trust can be greater than those of a trust that does not use gearing.
