

The background is a solid teal color. It is covered with numerous water droplets of various sizes, some of which are in sharp focus, showing their spherical shape and reflections. A white, ribbon-like shape, resembling a splash or a piece of paper, flows diagonally across the frame from the top left towards the bottom right. This shape partially obscures the text.

The background is a monochromatic teal color. It is covered with numerous water droplets of various sizes, some of which are in sharp focus, showing their spherical shape and reflections. A pair of glasses is partially visible, with the frames and lenses appearing as darker, more complex shapes among the droplets. The overall effect is a textured, organic feel.
