INTRODUCING SUDBURY HEIGHTS

Our service is designed to support people with mental health challenges, autism, learning disabilities, and complex needs to flourish and live a quality of life. Ascend Support's teams are highly trained to work with people to achieve their goals and aspirations.

We work closely with professionals and families to tailor and develop support that reflects people's needs. This can be delivered in people's own homes through outreach or through supported living, where the people we support may have their own tenancies with a housing association at the service.

We actively support people in being part of their community, designing regular activities based on what is important to them on an individual basis.
