QUESTION	ANSWER
GENERAL
Why did PSEG move Medicare eligible retirees and dependents to the Via Benefits Medicare marketplace?	PSEG wants their employees, retirees, and their families to have access to quality health care coverage at the best price. PSEG regularly evaluates the benefit programs to provide quality benefits at the right cost. The Medicare supplement market is now well established, with competitive and affordable options.
What is group health coverage and how is it different than individual health care coverage?	PSEG's retiree health care plans are group coverage sponsored by an employer. Group health plans may cover the retiree and additional members of the family, all under the same plan. The plans available through Via Benefits are individual coverage – that is, policies that insurance companies sell directly to individuals. Each eligible member of the household will need to enroll in their own individual plan.
What does this mean for me as a Medicare eligible retiree? What about my eligible dependents, regardless of their age?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • If you are a PSEG retiree or covered dependent becoming Medicare eligible, you will need to enroll in an individual medical, prescription drug, and/or dental plan through Via Benefits to have coverage. • You must apply for Medicare Part A and B to have access to coverage options through the Via Benefits Marketplace. • If you have an eligible dependent who is not Medicare-eligible, they will continue to be eligible for non-Medicare health care coverage through PSEG's retiree health plan provided you are enrolled in a plan through Via Benefits. • Coverage under the PSEG retiree health plans will terminate upon Medicare eligibility for you and/or your covered dependents.

Will I have to change the doctors, pharmacies, or other providers when we move to Via Benefits?	This will depend on the plans and carriers you choose. In most cases, there will be options available that will include many of the doctors, pharmacies and other providers you are currently using. When you speak with a benefit advisor during your enrollment period, be sure to share the names of all your providers (primary care physician, specialists, etc.) and pharmacies. Your benefit advisor can check the participating provider lists of the plans you are considering and recommend options that include your doctors and other providers.
Will PSEG continue to help me pay for my retiree health care coverage?	If PSEG subsidizes the cost of your medical and/or dental coverage today, PSEG will make a contribution to a notional account, called a Health Reimbursement Arrangement (HRA), if you enroll in qualifying medical, prescription or dental plans. You (the retiree) must be enrolled in a Via Benefits plan if Medicare-eligible, or the PSEG Retiree health plan (if not Medicare eligible) in order for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A Medicare-eligible dependent to receive HRA funds; and/or • A non-Medicare-eligible dependent to continue coverage under the PSEG Retiree health plan. <table border="1" data-bbox="567 576 1890 1079"> <tr> <td data-bbox="577 576 861 828"> For Medicare-eligible dependent to receive HRA funds </td> <td data-bbox="871 576 1890 828"> If the retiree is Medicare-eligible: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The retiree must be enrolled in a medical, dental and/or prescription drug plan through Via Benefits for the dependent to have access to HRA funds. If the retiree is not Medicare-eligible: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The retiree must remain enrolled in the PSEG Retiree health plan for their Medicare- eligible family member to receive the HRA contributions. The Medicare eligible family member must also be enrolled in a medical, dental and/or prescription drug plan to receive HRA contributions.
For Non-Medicare eligible dependent to continue coverage under PSEG Retiree health plan	If the retiree is Medicare-eligible: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The retiree must be enrolled in a medical, dental and/or prescription drug plan through Via Benefits for the dependent to be eligible for under the PSEG Retiree health plan. If the retiree is not Medicare-eligible: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The retiree must remain enrolled in the PSEG Retiree health plan for their Non-Medicare- eligible family member to continue coverage under the PSEG Retiree health plan.
How will this change what I pay—in my premiums for coverage and in my share of expenses— for covered services?	The amount you pay—in premiums, deductibles, copays and/or coinsurance—will depend on the plan(s) you elect, among other factors. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Today, your premiums for PSEG coverage may be automatically deducted from your monthly pension check. Upon becoming Medicare eligible, for each health care plan you elect through Via Benefits, you will pay the premium amount directly to the insurance carrier. Note that you may need to send premium payments to more than one insurance carrier (for example, if you elect medical and dental plans with different carriers). • Any deductibles, copays and coinsurance under the plans you elect will be paid directly by you. In general, you can be reimbursed from your HRA for these payments, as well as your other eligible out-of-pocket health care expenses (up to the amount available in your account). • Please Note: Retirees and dependents who are not Medicare-eligible and covered under the PSEG Retiree health plan will continue to see pension deductions for their premiums.

What if I am in the middle of receiving medical treatment? Will my current coverage continue to pay for my treatment or will this be covered under my new plan?	In general, if you are in the middle of treatment, the carrier for your selected individual policy will continue to cover your eligible medical expenses. However, each carrier has their own individual transition of care policies. Please notify the doctor or hospital of your new coverage. They will work with your carriers to ensure billing is properly handled. Please note, if you are in the middle of care, we recommend you select a plan that covers your current doctor(s) and facilities where you are currently being treated.
Who is eligible for Via Benefits?	Retirees and dependents who are Medicare-eligible (including Pre-65 Medicare-eligible retirees and dependents). Coverage under the PSEG Plans for Medicare-eligible retirees and dependents ended on Dec. 31, 2020. Retirees and dependents who are not Medicare-eligible will continue to be covered under the PSEG Retiree medical (including prescription drug) and dental plans. Please note, in order for the dependents to continue coverage under the PSEG Plan, the Medicare eligible Retiree must be enrolled in a Via Benefits plan.
What happens if I am turning age 65 soon (and not currently eligible for Medicare?)	Via Benefits will reach out to you before your 65th birthday to help you prepare for the transition. If you or your dependents become eligible for Medicare prior to 65, please notify PSEG BenefitConnect at 855-myPSEG1 (855-697-7341). Please note: You must enroll in Medicare Part A and Part B when you become Medicare eligible.

OPTIONS & ENROLLMENT
How do I enroll and how long will it take?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You may enroll by phone. The average enrollment call with a Via Benefits advisor is about 60-90 minutes. However, this time can vary depending on a retiree's and their eligible dependents questions, the number and type of plans they want to consider and their health situation and needs. A benefit advisor will stay on the phone for as long as necessary to ensure you have all the information you need to make an informed enrollment decision. You do not need to complete the enrollment process in one phone call. If a call runs longer than planned, you can schedule another to finish enrollment later, with the same benefit advisor if you wish. • You may also enroll online at my.viabenefits.com/PSEG. The website will contain information about all the plans available to you. However, some carriers do not allow online enrollment in some plans. So, depending on your choice(s), you may need to enroll by phone. It will take up to 15 minutes to enroll online.
How do pre-existing conditions factor into the enrollment process for medical, prescription drugs and dental coverage?	Enrolling in a plan through Via Benefits when you are initially eligible ensures that you will have guaranteed issue for coverage and that your enrollment and/or coverage will not be impacted by pre-existing conditions. Please note that you must enroll within your special enrollment period to avoid any pre-existing medical conditions.

PSEG will provide you and your Medicare-eligible dependent a subsidy to help you pay for your retiree health care coverage (if you are eligible for a company subsidy today). It will be provided to you through a Health Reimbursement Arrangement (HRA). An HRA is a tax-free, non-interest-bearing account where PSEG will make

	contributions as long as you are eligible for coverage and enrolled in a medical, prescription and/or dental plan through Via Benefits. You may use the account to reimburse yourself for the cost of your health care premiums and/or other eligible health care expenses such as copayments and coinsurance.
Will PSEG automatically increase HRA contribution amounts in the future to keep up with increases in the cost of living?	Yes. The PSEG HRA contribution will increase 1.5% each year, at the beginning of the year.
How much will PSEG contribute to the HRA?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The amount you receive each year from PSEG depends on the retiree's date of retirement. If you and your spouse are both Medicare-eligible, you both will receive a contribution in the same amount. The account will be a joint account — one account will be set up for the primary account holder and eligible dependents. • Any unused funds at the end of the year will roll over to the next plan year as long as you remain eligible. • The annual HRA contribution will increase each year by 1.5%.
Who will be the primary account holder?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The retiree will always be the primary account holder, even if they are not Medicare eligible.
What if I'm a company couple?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • In most instances, the individual who becomes Medicare eligible first will be the Primary Account Holder. This may not apply to all company couples. The designation of being primary participant will not impact claim submission or future eligibility.
What expenses are eligible for HRA reimbursement?	The HRA can be used for qualifying out-of-pocket health care expenses. These include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Medical, prescription drug, dental, and/or vision premiums for plans purchased through Via Benefits • Medicare Part B premiums • Qualified medical, dental and/or vision care out-of-pocket expenses • Your share of the cost for prescription drugs • Medical or dental premiums for non-Medicare eligible individuals enrolled in the PSEG Retiree health plan. More information about eligible expenses is included in the HRA funding guide which is available on the Via Benefits website.
Can I use the HRA to pay for the health care premiums of my non-Medicare eligible dependent?	Yes, you may use HRA funds to pay for the health care premiums and out-of-pocket expenses of your legal dependents within the household, including the PSEG Retiree health plan premiums and out-of-pocket expenses.
What happens if I die and there's money left in my HRA?	If you die, your surviving spouse, if applicable, will have access to the remaining balance in your HRA. Surviving Spouses and/or any Medicare eligible dependents will not be eligible for future HRA funds.
If PSEG has determined that I am not eligible for an HRA contribution, or I disagree with the amount of my HRA contribution, can I appeal?	If you do not agree with the determination of your eligibility for, or the amount of, an HRA contribution, you have the right to appeal. You may submit an appeal to Via Benefits by phone at 1-866-202-9678. If your appeal is denied, you can follow up with a written appeal.
